SmartReading is a completely different way of reading

SmartReading is a completely different way of reading. The main difference is that you do not pronounce the words in your thoughts, but visually take the pieces of text and record them in your mind.

The result of this brain-friendly way of reading is that you read many times faster, experience an increase in your concentration, make better connections and your memory will improve.

SmartReading Advanced is a unique approach to training that immediately delivers tangible results to you. SmartReading has been successfully tested by many MBA students, executives and managers.

It leads to a substantial reduction of study time spent on reading stacks of written texts or digital documents.

During the training you will already read three books using the smart method.

Speed-reading or SmartReading?

See the difference for yourself

We are often asked: "what is the difference between SmartReading and any other 'speed' reading training". The answer to this is crucial:

Speed reading teaches you how to read faster in the same linear manner that you already know. Your sub-vocalisation is faster, but this is not "brain-friendly". SmartReading on the other hand, will activate your "visual reading centre". This removes impediments and lets you explore text at your top possible reading speed whilst also increasing your comprehension and retaining the text's meaning in your long-term memory.

When you have accomplished this, reading becomes like watching a movie, which is far more "brain-friendly". It becomes fun to read, because you are able to absorb more material in a shorter amount of time and with less effort.

Advanced Program

On the first day you will experience that visual reading works for you. On the second day you will read a book with a fourfold increase in your reading speed.

The framework for the first two days of training includes:

- Introduction and setting goals
- Baseline reading test
- Memory test
- Internal dialogue
- Activation of your "visual reading centre"
- Visualisation and setting the reading goal
- The SmartReading process
- SmartReading exercises
- How your brain works
- Beliefs and mental blocks
- SmartReading and Mind Maps

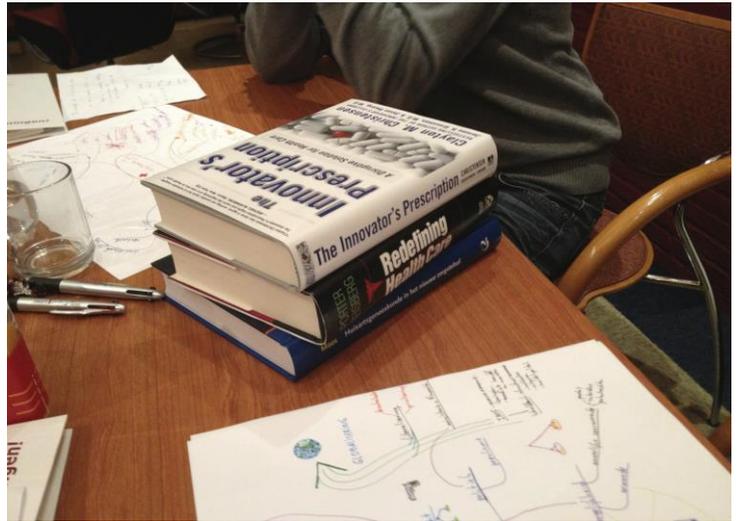

Practice Period

Your homework between the first and second part of the training consists of SmartReading three books. These books are supposed to be on a subject that interests you, but do not, as yet, have much knowledge about. These three books should each have approximately 250 pages and you should spend a maximum time of 2½ to 3 hours per book.

The framework for day three includes the following:

- Advanced Mind Mapping of the three books you have read
- Advanced SmartReading exercises
- A discussion of the three books, which you have been reading using the SmartReading technique.

SmartReading has a beneficial effect on dyslexia
